

Leading Worship in the Moment

Leading worship in the moment - which sounds like little more than improvisation - is actually a product of careful planning, mental and technical preparation, and sensitivity to the voice of God and one's congregation. This can be effectively done for any size or style of worship setting.

The Process of Personal & Team Planning

Team Rehearsals

The worship service

Other considerations

Suggested Reading

- Scribbling in the Sand - Michael Card

Suggested Websites

- Podcast: Makoto Fujimora "children of the creative age" from "artists as reconcilers" conference
- Podcast: Dana Gioia from "artists as reconcilers" conference
- www.michaelcard.com - radio show archive

Presenter's Information

Ryan Shenk
Worship Arts Pastor - Manheim BIC
ryan@manheimbic.org